Regulatory background and needs of extrapolation for Industrial chemicals and biocidal products – Anni Nyman (ECHA)

The presentation will outline the information requirements and main guidance documents within the REACH Regulation and the BPR covering also the principles and protection goals in which they are based on. Under both regulatory frameworks there are possibilities for adaptation of these data requirements and revision of guidance documents in order to introduce scientific developments. The presentation will explain the audience what are the procedures and the main steps and difficulties when adapting these data requirements or guidance documents.
